Dear Friend you

will no doubt think that I am a long time answering your letter.
I received your letter last Friday containing your picture, which I think very nice, But I donot think it does you justice.

I do not wonder at you having the blues. I wish I could have seen you, when you were cross.

I donat think there was quite as many mistakes this time. Sometimes when I am writing I feel almost discouraged of ever being a good writer. some times I can write firstrate, & other times like this.

We are having some very rough weather now. I should think you will get tired of teaching so much. I expect you read the news every paper, if so you will see an account of our school teachers accident. He got his leg broke riding more, but it is getting quite as he was going home from school late. But I will make up for it about two weeks ago. Mr. Stevenson next time, And I will try & write to a Mr. Mc Donald, takes charge again in a few days. You are of the school. But a great many have left since the accident they seem to think the teachers we have now are not good enough.

so I do not have grammar now, have to be told a thing two or three times before I can remember it, class attends. I have not heard from Ruth or Ida for quite a long time, but I expect a letter every day. I hear the Smallpox is almost extinct in Logan, which I hope is a fact.

There is not book in town of the Home improvement works. But one of the Station for me, for me.

Well Nora please excuse me for not writing more, but it is getting quite the best correspondent I have ever had. I hope you will not get tired of correcting me. My memory is so short, that sometimes I can't tell a thing two or three times before I can remember it. But I am trying to cultivate & strengthen my memory. I will try & write a little better then this next time. I will now close. With wishing you a good night

Yours truly, C. R. Clarkson.
