amount to much but it was the spiciest and richest lecture I ever attended, Well Para I will write a gain sometime and describe our entertainment at the judges. I will try and study up a condensed description of it. To be continued in our next.

Well Para Things are hot here I was never before pleas'd in such a hornets nest I hope they will soon do something with the China men, Please send me a nice form of introductory letter, there are two of the nicest people going up there to school and I want to introduce them to Bro. and Delia.

I shall send some money by them for you to pay the childrens schooling and get Ca. some shoes, coats and Riband and Henry some boots you buy them at good ones and make them give you wholesale prices I also want you to pay any taxes, not back ones but the 7-30 A. M. I arose from bed took a bath dressed (one brown dress) at 8 sharp knock at door took one last look at myself in the mirror, well satisfied, then went with Mr. F. to breakfast The ladies had not all come down yet, while we were waiting for our breakfast to be served we amused ourselves eating muskmelon well we had a splendid breakfast, well I am afraid I weary you so I will not go through the whole day as I might do, we had a splendid time from 9 to 12. then intermission till two then from two until four o'clock, We then took in another part of town, saw a nice little black monkey on the walk

eating peaches

When we went to supper I did not like to order any thing so I told Mr. F. I would take the same that he did use, what do you think he did? he read over the bill then ordered every thing on it (I think it was to learn me to do my own ordering) well when the supper was brought the waiter had to make 3 trips Nora I thought I should die laughing and I do wish you could have seen that "niggers" face, well when the dishes were placed on the table I almost wished the floor would open and swallow me Nora there were 30 dishes a piece for us, there were about 8 different kinds of meats and fishes from John Wright Moff as luck would have it we were early and no one else was at the same table with us; but as long as we staid in C. e. whenever I encountered that "negroes" glance he would laugh all over his face, I should like to tell you all about the institutes and the evening music and lectures, and the prepared papers, but it would take too long, I have learned molding in sand so that I can now teach it to primary pupils, I think it must be the neest way in the world to teach "Geog." I did not think the lecture on sand would
