Dear Miss Ream:

Enclosed are ten copies of a clipping from the Long Beach Press-Telegram of November 25, 1939 which may be of interest to you. People like to have clippings from the newspaper to send to friends and relatives, or to put in scrap books. A newspaper clipping often tells the story better than it can be told in a letter. If you are able to use any of these, kindly mail me five cents (the price of one newspaper) for each clipping you use. If the clippings are of no use, you are under no obligation.

This means of supplying people with clippings which they might be glad to keep has been suggested to me as a possible way of making a little money and at the same time being of service.

Should you like more copies of this or any other clippings, I shall be glad to supply them, if you will phone me at 611-452.

Yours sincerely,

Leslie Falfrey
