rattle Ida but for him.

Denise and Lenny enjoy the snow. Today it is just right for making snow-men and they're having a great time doing it.
Lenny chased the snow off the front steps.

I think it will be splendid for you to go to Beulah's with Ida.
When is spring vacation? The drive there is beautiful. It seems like a pleasant dream that we were in California a few weeks back, not like a reality.

And how the weeks do fly!
I'll wager the lawn looks fine by now. How I would like to see the roses now too, for they must be very lovely. I often wish the Baby could be in the sunshine of your big window. The window is certainly wonderful - makes the room so pleasant and cheerful.
Now I must be off to work. Lots of love from us all. Thomas

Dear Mother,

It was a pleasure for all of us to get your nice letters.
Thanks for them and for sending the pictures. We, too, think they are rather good. I may soon finish the last roll we started while with you and then I'll send it along for developing and printing. Thanks.

I have found the book you asked for "The Story of the Book of Mormon" by Reynolds. It looks interesting. I have read a bit in it and like it. I'll wrap it and send it when this goes.

We still have real winter here.
The snow is about two feet (or more) deep. It is cold at night and the ing completion. It will not be long now before we start the incubators.

We have not received as many eggs to date as we would have hoped in good or ordinary weather.

We finally received the long looked for photos but they are not what we ordered and the one was cracked char-trou. We have written the company about it. I do hope it will be settled satisfactorily before long. They ^{are} finished differ-ently and in different folders.

The Baby is growing rapidly. Mary Dorney saw him yesterday and was astonished over the way he had grown since we first came back. He likes to stand when we have him on our lap and must touch and feel everything he can get his windows freeze up, so I have been taking my portable away each week. (Ed's belief, the majority of that will grow. It is a lot of room to say for certain.) All last night it continued, more like a blizzard - fine snow falling and a hard blowing. Snow was heaped up against the south open windows this morning.

I have just come in from gathering eggs and with my hands full of snow. But it did fun some things for it reminded me of the like I used to make the hillside where the nests are in spring and the snow shape on the hill some time ago.
The "weighted" bush. (Dorney is) making nests which are in that very exact way. There is a great heap of things which should be done of nests
