

down or wrapped up, hands included, if he is to stay quiet. Just now he has a long ^{narrow} bottle to the bottom of which a few pieces of hard candy are stuck. He's trying to pry them loose with a spoon which barely reaches and a stick of wood when that doesn't work. His eyes are still a deep brown and it looks as tho his hair will be curly. He plays balls very nicely with Denise for us. He throws wiff. Denise visits her Easter children and plays with Kanny every day. She's getting to be quite a big little girl. All my friends in Salt Lake that both youngsters had such good healthy color. They should have, they're out so much.

I do like the photo of you, Mother Keam. I think it is very good and Rodney is so proud of it.
Many, many thanks and lots of love from all of us, Norma

Singh, Idaho.
Jan. 19, 1934.
Dear Dad and Mother Keam,
I do want to thank you so very, very much for that beautiful center piece. I like it ever so well. It is so good looking and dainty, too. I shall use it on special occasions. It is so beautifully done. I was more than delightfully surprised when I found it waiting for me on our arrival a few days ago. And, Dad, how good of you to remember that I wanted the blue shirt. I shall try to make Benson a romper in the next day or so. He does look good in blue and has nothing in that color, in the way wonderful. Rodney does need a vacation badly. A long hard grind behind and facing the same thing soon again.

Rodney is off now with the last load of turkeys. It took six trailer loads to get the birds there. Rodney and Max have each made three trips, Arthur and Joe helping load and unload. It is something to be proud of to see so many nice birds ready for market. The officials gave Rodney some genuine compliments.

Benson is becoming quite a boy - he's a real boy too. They're nothing half way about him. He's always on the move even more so than Denise and I that she was active enough. He has to be tied of a ramp. I have stacks of sewing I do for the grungos too. All that too of Denise's dresses are either too short or almost worn out. Benson is really outgrowing these rompers and they are getting thin and well worn. I should tell I know the most necessary sewing done before the week with little packages of fabric. The stage are so short I know myself which a fraction of what I should like to.

It is a fun disarrangement I am that was all knowable I make our things no more had hoped. He would have been being you next week for the following one for sure if we could have marketed both the birds today. It would have been
