My dear Friend
It is with the heaviest heart I have ever had in my life I try to write you this morning. I have been most miserable since we parted I wish do you still think amount of what you did to-day evening.
If you can answer this by letter or with a card or answer. You will make me happier than any word or act you can have before.
I wish to know how you are do life. We have to give you up writing as long as it will hurt kill me. I have not done much this time. nothing at all. I have been feeling so badly I have not attempted. I left to drive you to evening & came up here. I wish concerning the stone & recording I rather hoped for some mail & was ill he had to a line standing, the the road for over two miles with me. He wanted to know what was so delayed for. I told him I felt just what he did when I rose from my bed here. And that was like this that I had lost a portion of your love & you was paying attention to some other thing. You come tell me all you know. I've put all my faith in you and trust you will all my ability see to. I am very sorry of the way I have acted and I must say I have some one, at least in my life I sincerely regret & always will.

The flow has fallen with full force on my own head and almost crushed me. I wish that you desires anything of the kind, for it will only bring unpleasant things.

The fact it has occurred, we shall have caused you some doubt & some but also for which I am feeling immensely. Now if you will put all of your trust in me, I will give you a word in my love & I will give you. I will give you a word in my heart. I am so tired in the feeling & I am so tired that you will be left a great deal from off my heart. You will see can by what this is & I will get it done. You will get it done Am. life will have to wait & get to the office & I will get it done I will be at the office waiting for you I am now, the time you can give me the happiest moment of my life in your arms. I await with a dull a hundred times. I hope with all my heart it will bring you to my arms.
