

2 June 85
Original Verse

An original verse by W. D Ream from letter dated 2 June 1885.
Composed when " My thoughts were upon the present past and future positions in my life. When these lines dawned upon my mind. I'll write them just as they came."

Upon the river of time we're floating,
Now drifting mid thoughtful scenes;
Far out from the shore of launching,
We ride on this fast flowing stream.

and soft times thought of you Aaa You wanted I should write some of my sentimental thoughts when I was riding alone I will give you one little verse out of many - it is of a riding down the river - you after crossing the divide from today's place and see what you think of it

My thoughts were up - the present past & future position in my life When the river flowed upon my sorrow I'll write them - just as they come

Upon the river of time ever flowing
I have drifting with thoughtless sorrow
That on from the shore of carelessness We ride ever on - how long shall we

 She cordially invites me to call

 It will be nice sometimes future to call & see one that you have commuted with so far time I think I could be

That sometimes in a future will accept her invitation & don't see any harm in doing for it will be necessary to wind up the winter season
