amount to much but it was the spiciest and richest lecture I ever attended, Well Pra I will write a gain sometime and describe our entertainment at the judges. I will try and study up a condensed description of it. To be continued in our next.

Well Pra things are not here I was never before placed in such a hornets nest I hope they will soon do something with the China men, Please send me a nice pair of introductory letter, there are two of the nicest people going up there to school and I want to introduce them to Brax, and Delia, I shall send some money by them for you to pay the childrens schooling and get Ca. some shoes, school and pencil and Henry some boots you may have got good ones and make them give you whole sale prices, I also want you to pay my debt at back ones but the

7-30 A.M. I arose from bed took a bath dressed (one brown dress) at 8 sharp knock at door took one last look at myself in the mirror, well satisfied, then went with Mr H. to breakfast. The ladies had not all come down yet, while we were waiting for our breakfast to be served we amused ourselves eating muskmelon well we had a splendid breakfast, well I am afraid I weary you so I will not go through the whole day as I might do, we had a splendid time from 9 to 12. Then intermission till two then from two until four o'clock, We then took in another part of town, saw a nice little black monkey on the walk eating peaches

When we went to supper I did not like to order anything so I told Mr. F. I would take the same that he did use, what do you think he did? he react over the bill then ordered every thing on it (I think it was to learn me to do my own ordering) well when the supper was brought the waiter had to make 3 trips Nora I thought I should die laughing and I do wish you could have seen that "niggers" face, well when the dishes were placed on the table I almost wished the floor would open and swallow me. Asra there were 30 dishes a piece for us, there were about 8 different kinds of meats and fishes

From John Brown
 as luck would have it we were early and no one else was at the same table with us, but as long as we staid in C. e. whenever I encountered that "negroes" glance he would laugh all over his face, I should like to tell you all about the institutes and the evening music and lectures, and the prepared papers, but it would take too long, I have learned molding in sand so that I can now teach it to primary pupils. I think it must be the nicest way in the world to teach "Geog." I did not think the lecture on sand would
