

#1174 ALAIN WALDA OTTESON
HANSEN FAMILY

#1177 GARY CLOYD GALBRAITH
FAMILY

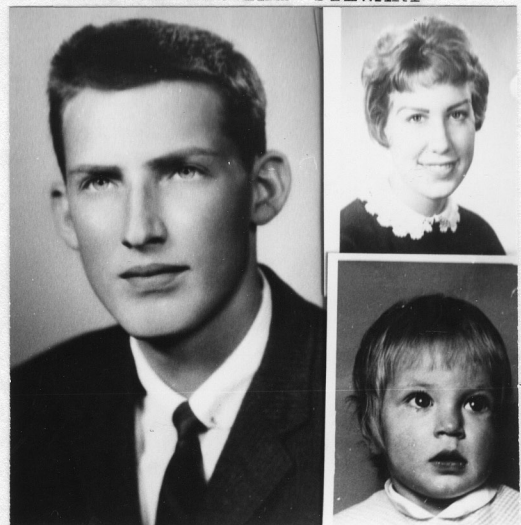

#1209 RICHARD E JONES
FAMILY

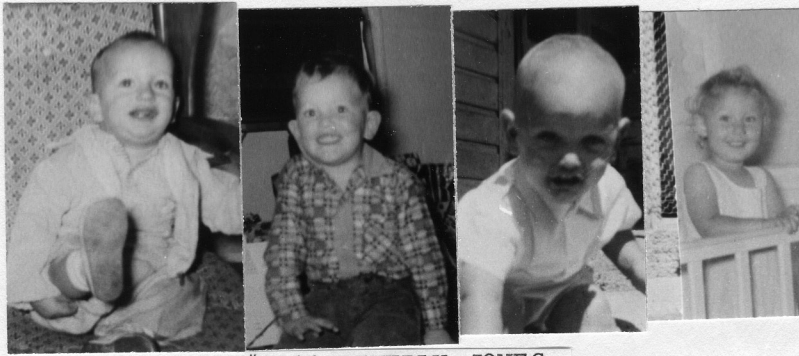

#1175 JOYCE PEARL FOWLER &
STANLEY RAY MOORE

#1182 BETHANY ANDERSON &
JOHN RICHARD STEWART

#1181 DAVID C ANDERSON
FAMILY

#1211 BEVERLY JONES
BARRINGTON FAMILY

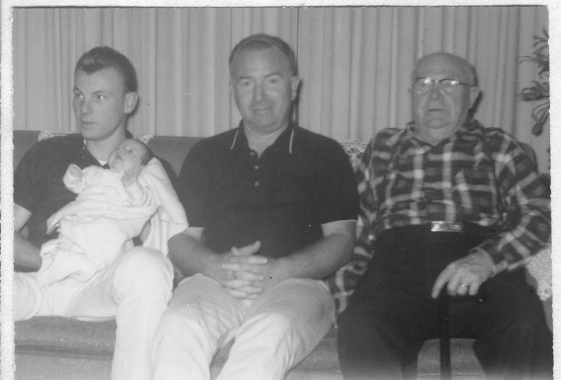

#1212 LINDA LOUISE SMITH
BOYD FAMILY

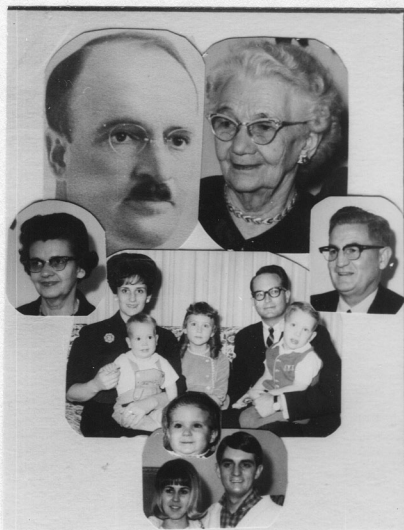

#535 JOHN RODNEY REAM, JR &
VICTORIA JANE CRANNEY

#536 JOAN REAM BUNDERSON
FAMILY

#1426 RONALD LE ROY HOPKINS

page 279 EMER CROCKETT JR
FAMILY

page 288 EDWIN DAVID CROCKETT
FAMILY

page 291a MURIEL LAMOREAUX
MATTHEWS FAMILY

page 290 RICHARD CLESS CROCKETT & PRISCILLA BEULAH ROSE

page 290 CAROL CROCKETT
THOMAS FAMILY

page 281 ANNA CROCKETT &
CASPER W MERRILL

NORA CROCKETT REAM FAMILY REUNION

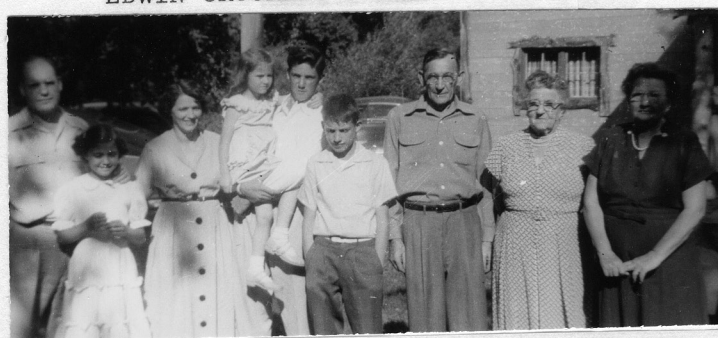

OZRO OZIAS CROCKETT FAMILY REUNION

WILFORD WOODRUFF CROCKETT FAMILY REUNION

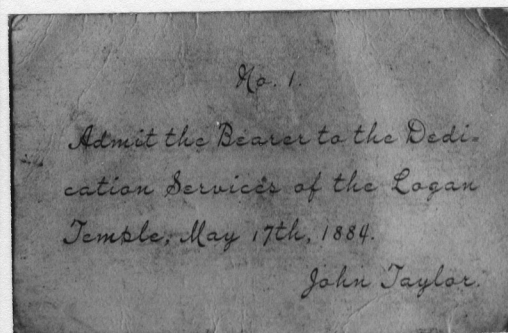

EDWIN CROCKETT FAMILY REUNION

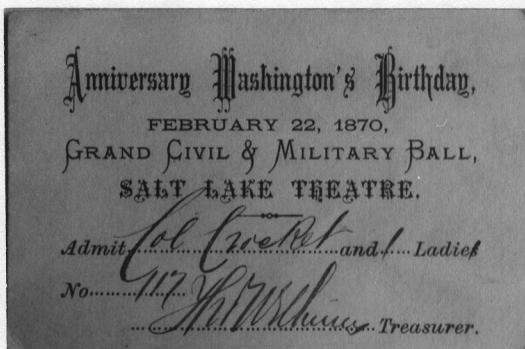

DELIA ANN CROCKETT CURTIS FAMILY REUNION

HYRUM CROCKETT FAMILY REUNION

AUG • 60

DONNA SCOTT AND OTHER GENEALOGISTS AT A REUNION

BROWNS HEAD LIGHT - VINALHAVEN, MAINE

Old Congregational Church where our ancestors attended church, and the Wiscasset County Court House where many of our early records have been found. The oldest deed of Isaac Crockett was found here by Leon O. Crockett

DELIA DELIVERANCE BYAM &
SARAH HEYWOOD

Logan Municipal Government Passes Seventieth Birthday

Special to The Tribune
LOGAN—The Logan city municipal government entered its seventy-first year Sunday.

The first complete municipal government was formed 70 years ago when the city council met at the home of Ezra Taft Benson at 139 East First North street on March 14, 1866, and appointed officers to comprise the city government.

A town charter was granted to Logan by the territorial legislature, January 17, 1866. Terms of the charter were that all citizens within the city limits be guaranteed life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The first city elections under the charter were held March 5, 1866, when the following men were elected to office: Alvin Crockett, mayor; John B. Thatcher, C. B. Robbins and Thomas X. Smith, aldermen; James H. Martineau, Thomas E. Ricks, William K. Robinson, Philander Cranney and Charles O. Card, counselors.

Eleven days after the election, the new officers met at the Benson home to complete the city organization. Appointments included: Recorder, H. W. Isaacson; marshal, Philander Cranney; attorney, H. K. Cranney; treasurer, Paul Cardon; assessor and collector, H. Sadler; street supervisor, Benjamin M. Lewis; sexton, John Jacobs; surveyor, James H. Martmean; sealer of weights and measures, George Hymers; inspector of liquors, William H. Sherman.

The city police force was composed of volunteer men, who received remuneration only when it was necessary to make arrests.

OUR - GAZETTE

Tuesday, April 7, 1931

THREE CENTS A COPY

A FIVE-GENERATION GROUP

Headed By That Rugged Fisherman and Farmer, Capt. Thomas J. Young of Vinalhaven

Down in Orland, Me., Gene Allen Stover, a lonesome little chap of 23 sighs plaintively now and then and makes known in his 2-years-old language that he would like to see his great, great, gwandfather, Thomas J. Young of Vinalhaven, who will be 83 come next October.

And thereby hangs a tale of five generations, destined in the natural course of events to exist for quite a number of years, as Mr. Young at 82

Edward Hopkins of Vinalhaven and carried a crew of 12.

Mr. Young was married in Rockland to Mary Wentworth, who died 21 years ago, and from the time of his marriage until his retirement from the sea 20 years ago he was in small boats netting and trawling, principally in Penobscot Bay. A net income of $500 from a season's fishing was considered a good return in those days.

Since retirement from the sea Mr. Young has been engaged in small farming, and after a winter's visit with his son at Owl's Head is going back to his home near Brown's Head Light, and show envious neighbors what a nice garden he can cultivate at the age of 82.

Mr. Young is a lifelong Democrat but has not voted in recent years because it has meant a nine-mile trip to the polls. He believes that prohibition with all its faults is better than the old way. "I have seen enough of rum," said he.

Aside from a touch of rheumatic fever he has had little physical ailment, and is scarcely acquainted with the village doctor. He is a member of the Baptist Church at North Haven, and recalls having led a meeting in the First Baptist Church, Rockland, some 30 years ago.

"But I guess I'm a free thinker," he told a Courier-Gazette reporter the other day. "I believe in prayer; that we are created to help one another; that love is the main point—because God is love; God is all there is."

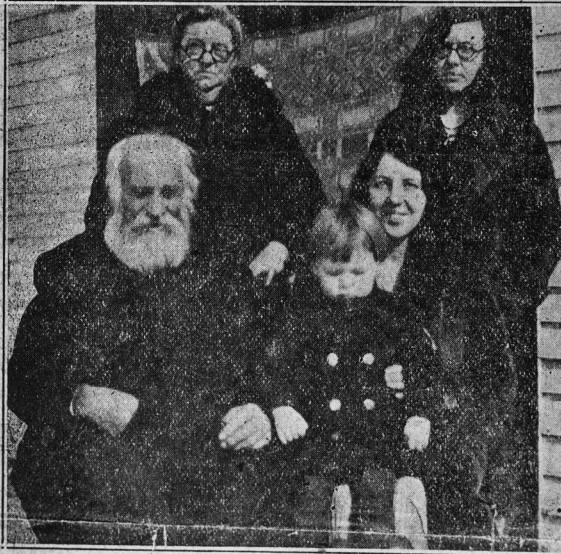

Mr. Young believes in a hereafter; that a soul cannot die; that it will live again in some other form. He was prominent in Good Templary when that order was active in Knox County, and was raised a Mason 60 years ago, March 7. He is a member of Moses Webster Lodge, F.A.M., and Atlantic Chapter, R.A.M., of Vinalhaven.

To Mr. and Mrs. Young were born seven children five of whom survive—Grover C. Young of Owl's Head, Mrs. Mabel Studley of Glencove, Mrs. Theresa Whitmore of Rockport and Mrs. Caroline Bray of Owl's Head.

The members of the five generation group, shown in the accompanying picture, and in the order mentioned are:

Thomas J. Young, of Vinalhaven, Mrs. Mina York of West Penobscot, Mrs. Hazel Stover of Orland, Mrs. Mabel Stover of Orland and Gene Allen Stover of Orland.

Should there be a reunion of this family it would be necessary to lay 52 plates. Mr. Young has seen all of the members but one.

Standing, left to right, Mrs. Mina York of West Penobscot and Mrs. Hazel Stover of Orland. Seated, Mrs. Mabel Stover of Orland, Gene Allen Stover of Orland and Thomas J. Young of Vinalhaven.

is an alert and virile challenge to the encroachments of old age.

Mr. Young is a lifelong resident of Vinalhaven and strange, indeed it would have been if he had not taken up the vocation of fishing. In his younger days he went to La Havre and Prince Edward Island in large vessels, looking for mackerel. In the main it was a prosaic life, with lots of hard work and lots of risk, but the only time when he did not expect to see land again was when the schooner Leaping Water became dismasted in a hurricane and was helplessly adrift until succor came three days later. This was off Cape Canso, in the Seventies. The shipwrecked crew was taken into Gloucester. The schooner was commanded by Capt.

ON THE YOUNG LINE

GEORGIA E MONAGHAN 1879-1964

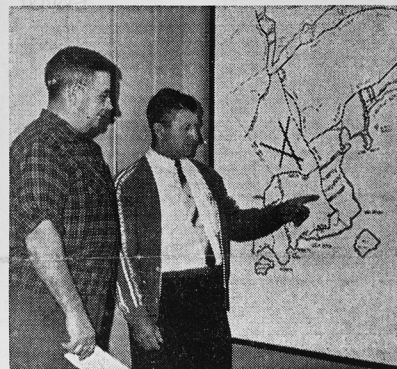

She has done all of the Young line

The old Homestead at Ash Point will be restored by the Mussel Ridge Historical Society. It is considered an excellent example of an early Maine farm homestead.

The Mussel Ridge Historical Society will have a home. It was built about 1780, at least prior to the Revolution. Plans are now underway to restore the old wood frame house. It is now in extensive disrepair but has been weatherized until spring. In October a volunteer group cleaned and sorted out the contents which will be disposed of by an auction later. The connecting ell and sheds, of a late addition, were removed in preparation for the shingling to be done when weather will permit. To many, this was known as the Jim Mullins house, who bought it from the late Edwin Witham Oct. 31, 1898. Since 1937 it has not been occupied and was finally taken by the Town of Owl's Head who turned it over to our Society last October. Also in October a "Restoration Fund" was initiated. A public supper raised $100 to start the fund and several private donations have since been received. The Crockett Reunion Association has donated and Crockett descendants, know that many Crockett women were wives of the families formerly residing in this old house. They hope it will prove to be a Crockett Farm. The cellar is in excellent condition and the basic chimneys and fireplaces are there. Research is still being done to prove who actually built the house. It should prove to be one of the oldest houses in this part of Maine. On July 25, 1879 Mrs. Elizabeth (Spalding) Hinkley sold the house to Edwin Witham. At that time she stated the house was known as the Spalding Homestead. Her father, Capt. Charles Spalding, died in 1846. His widow resided there from the time of her marriage. Mrs. Spalding was Lucy Crockett, dau. of Capt. David and Sarah (Heard) Crockett. We do know that Ash Point itself was the original Crockett Farm of 1760. John Crockett who originally settled there early was driven out by the last Indian War and took refuge at times at both the Thomaston Fort and the settlement at Fox Islands. In 1769 he sold it to Stephen Peabody but after John Crockett's death in 1770, was re-purchased by his sons, Jonathan and Nathaniel. For many generations parts of this property were given to the daughters as their dowry upon marriage. Time only will give us all the answers. In the meantime, we shall enjoy hearing from our regular and all interested prospective members, not only for monetary donations but for ideas and anything pertaining to its history. At the present time we have a membership of 208 regular $1 active members, 33 sustaining members $5 and 11 life members $25. Another membership called benefactors is available for $50. Every dollar received by our Society means another nail, shingle or window frame. Old panes of glass are needed for the original windows. Remember we are tax exempt when income tax time rolls around.

DEED TRANSFERRED — A lot of land in Ash Point, the site of the Old Mullens Place, has been given to the Mussel Ridge Historical Society by the Town of Owl's Head. Pictured here is David Knowlton, president of the organization, as he points to the location of the land. Looking on from the left, holding the deed which had just been signed, was the chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Francis Dyer.

Believed to be the home built by our John Crockett, the third in line in our direct line.