Dear Mother,

I should have written sooner if I expected you to receive it Sunday, but with the press of affairs it simply slipped my mind. Well I am writing now and when you get it you will know that I did not forget you entirely. I hope you are all well down there as we are here. Mary Ida is getting along nicely now. She has been up and around for several days now and is gaining strength every day. She feels pretty badly on account of missing the examinations in Geography and Physiology, but she will have to have a special or take them next year.

I have my garden partly planted and the radishes and lettuce are partly up, but I am afraid they are frozen now as we have had two pretty cold nights now. We had snow for several days then frost.

We haven't taken the sheep out yet, but hope to soon. The grass is getting a good start now. I have not found anyone to herd them yet and it looks as though I may have to do it myself, at least for a while.

Rodney has all the horse place fixing done and is busy with his turkeys. (over)

I have the Dayton place ready and will start seeding this morning and hope to finish about noon. I have not been to Pine Springs yet but W. G. went up the other day and says it is pretty wet yet. I think I will go up in a day or two and have a look around.

I think that we will have a good summer this year. I wish you could come up for a while.

Well it is now nearly six in the morning and I will have to be getting to work if I expect to get my seeding done to meet an appointment by two.

Give Jennie hello for all of us and that I will write to him soon.

Love to all,

Wesley.
