

Cherry Creek

March the 6, 1885

My Dear Friend Nora

The second has come and I attempt to write again Have not wind in the day Might have been there yesterday had I gone out last night. But when I got here Mrs. & Miss Davis would not hear of me going further. We had a pleasant evening. <sup>and</sup> Miss Davis looks so sweet as ever but more shy than I feel. My legs are stiff How is where I felt so strange when I retired, but last night I felt quite different. I have but little time to write you this morning as I want to be off soon. Weather is fine but roads are muddy. Will be done and off he goes Saturday. I have very good luck so far. I have had some bother in getting the freight here on account of roads. This will not leave till morning unless I meet the mail.

If I do I shall post it. This is when I sent you that article letter before. Have you heard from G. L. lately? and others?
I am watched close as a spy which makes the trip just a little inconvenient. It's a beautiful morning. I am getting the Spring fever. Longing for the ranch.
My thoughts are so broken I can't write you any good letters this time but to keep my word I send you this. I am well & hope to do well the round trip. Will see you soon if not sooner. Until which I remain Your True
Will