At Home 7. P. M.

Dear friend Will -

I wrote you a long letter yesterday for it was Sunday & I always write to Will on the Sabbath, but after I got it written I was not satisfied with it & returned it. I rec'd yours written on Friday & one written on Sunday. I was so pleased to hear from you. If you knew how pleased I am to get your letters you would always write often. The week always seems shorter when I get some letters from you. I take great pleasure in writing to you - even when I am too tired, to do any thing else I like & write to you. I have other work to do tonight but I feel too tired & weary. Besides teaching I worked two or three hours fixing up window blinds in the school room & fixing the desks, work that I had spoken to the trustees to have done but they had failed to see about it. Then I stayed after school & translated my German lesson & from there I went down for your letter. I was not disappointed. I think I shall have no paid work little school this term - & it will be a pleasure as well as work. Will, I did not mean that getting married is an event of ^{im}portance - I remember the remark I made & can see how it is more likely to be read with

I should think you
would come down after you get the throbbing
done, but of course if you don't want to do so, don't.
But really I think I should not be dis-
pleased if I should see you before
long.
With love
I am your friend in Oct. as possible will it was possible to put it till the very last day & it is yet possible for it to be in Oct. if it were to be on the last day; but I always thought that Nov. would suit you better than Oct. Well, I do not want to set the month - It is enough to set the day. I would even put that off on you too if you would set it, but I suppose that would be out of the question. But, well, I can be all ready if necessary before school closes. So in reality it need be but little later than as if I had not taught.

Yes I will only have two months of school - that seems but a short time. I hope we will not have an early winter.

that meaning than any other, but I did not see it at the time - I only meant that it was unimportant ^{whether} ~~or~~ I teach or not. & I did not think when I made the remark of it apply^{ing} to the other event. So you must excuse the remark.
I do not think you could think it a more serious step than I do.

Well it is too dark for me, see the lines & supper is ready so I will finish this aft.

I have had supper so will now finish writing.

Will you speak or write as if it is my fault that our trip will be so late in the season that it will not be so pleasant. I do not feel as if it were my fault for you told me to put it as late
