Dear Sister Rosa: —

I answered your letter a week ago but neglected to post it; therefore I burn it and write a new letter. I received a letter from Delia the other day, with one of Eliza's pictures, and I was very pleased with it. I must answer it this afternoon. I ^{was} have not been at ^{the} Sunday school ^{this} morning and am not going to church ^{this} afternoon. The snow is two feet deep, and drifting terribly, am afraid we can not find the school room in the morning.

I am afraid we will not be able to walk the distance this winter but I can rent my house nearer.

I will take the organ at ^{$}70.00 (seventy dollars) and send you the money in January How shall I send it?

The children are making so much noise that I am obliged to quit kiss baby for me and write soon to your loving Sister
Mary
