

12 June 1889
Jessie Rose → Nora
(friend)
from Nebraska

of still have proper of every time of the heart
I think I get back to Iowa
in the line conclude to remain here
how very dear
I find about
let your home
entirely put me out
but let me hear from you again
the first can find it convenient to write. Friends
Love & Farewell
yourself and
Baby
Ding of to
York, Feb.

had warning of my trouble except as I saw the cause unmistakably coming towards me. And there is something staring me in the face now, which looks like a rust. Dennis & I have spent a pleasant 10 weeks together.
But our lady's health is not very good, & I must change my board-place. I think I shall like my new home fully as well as I ~~do~~ have here, but I will miss Dennis.

The gentleman of the house where I'm going has recently been a member of the Legislature, and he told they are very intelligent & sociable. I like the country quite well here. I will stay here during the summer, and will be at

York (Ct)
Every young friend
please
P.S. There are some points of theology that I want you
please to tell you of it when I write again.
I'm not writing regards to any
that the things different except should differ
Japan, but some general people
at my
the three trees
redwood - ye trees
Millington, N. H. 1851

Mrs Nora O. Ream:
My Dear friend:

I've been thinking for some time of answering your letter
- duly received. - But for little duties & "time killers", which come daily to us all, I have not done so until now. A quiet Sunday morning - a time, on which I always enjoy writing to my friends. - No, it was not altogether because you failed to answer promptly, that I did the same, for I was extremely busy most of the winter.
But I would have been glad to have heard from you since.
But thought that perhaps you too, had much to do & think of. I never meant to retaliate. So please think no more of that & be sure that I will be very glad to have a prompt answer to my letters but ^{will} not depend if they are put aside for other duties.

You must be lonely without Will! - I venture to say - you get much society from Nature.
Nothing would give me so much pleasure as to spend a few days with you in your mountain seclusion. Wouldn't I climb "that mountain", and write my name upon that "big rock"!

O! I'm intoxicated at the mere thought! I want to see you so much - see you! I have seen you many times this summer.
Did you ever notice, especially when you're surrounded by strangers how vividly our friends are pictured in our minds? I see distinctly every change of expression in the face I almost imagine I can hear words from their lips. I believe I will always continue to indulge at times, in day dreams.

And so you have been dreaming ^(night dreams)
"bad things" of me have you?
Well as dreams are something we can't control, I think I'll have to take it upon myself to try to establish the doctrine that they always go contrary; & that my friends must remember that they must not dream good of me.

I have seen many dreams of others verified. but as for myself I never could make anything out of them but indigestion, or an uncomfortable position in bed.

Miss Jessie Rose

