

March 4 - 1944.

My Dear Mammie - I was very glad to get your nice letter - and should have answered it sooner but it was so hard to get at writing I'll try and do better next time. Wesley left here yesterday for home by way of Milton's and Douglas where he expects to stay a week, then on home. I surely enjoyed having him here and miss him now he is gone. It was the longest visit I have had with him for many years. I surely hope he can come back again next winter and bring you with him. I'll look forward to that. I think Wesley looks younger for the rest he has had. I think it did him good. After he left yesterday these letters got here, forwarded from Dingle - so I did not think they would forward them back so I will put them in with this letter and send them to you. You need not have any more forwarded as he will be there before he could get them anywhere else.

Mary Ida is well and as sweet as ever.
She was glad to get Hazel Dawn's letter and I think will write soon if she has not already.
I hope you folks are all well and not too lonesome. Your "boy friend" - Wesley - will soon be with you again.

Give my love to the girls and write again
when you can.

I hope Wesley has a more restful trip than you and I had.

Lovingly

Mother Beam.
